News

New Members: Welcome to new members who have joined recently: Katharina Roessler, Lorraine Johns, Scott Esser, Elisabeth Scheungrab, Fiona Mackenzie, Jenna Thornton, Oleg Chernyshenko, Svitlana Amelina, Cara Simone Swit, Emma Rogers, Jacques Gouws, Susan Gouws, Markus Milne, Travis Brydon, Rachael Crombie, and Mark Beharrell. And welcome back to returning members Kelly Purdie and Onola Sutherland. We hope you have many enjoyable days out tramping with us!

Annual General Meeting Wednesday 11 April: Yes folks it's THAT time of year again, when everyone runs for the Pass... but we've got it covered! Come along and see how the year has gone, listen to your Committee members discuss what they've done, (or intended to do) and get involved in general business. If you would like to know about any of the Committee positions please ask the President or Club Captain - all positions are open for nominations. We will be needing a Treasurer as Natasha has done the maximum of 4 years in the position. We rely on our members to keep the club running smoothly, but rest assured you won't automatically get a job by turning up! The AGM proceedings tend to be speedy so there will still be plenty of time for club business and catch-up. The schedule for the evening is as follows: doors open at 7.30 pm, club business will run from 7.50 pm to 8.10 pm and the AGM Proceedings will start at 8.10 pm sharp. Refreshments as per usual. Plenty of comfy seating, and parking at the rear of building. See you there!

It'll be a longish day tramping: ~9 hours, and around 1300 m height gain, with a little bush bashing on the descent near the track. Torch and whistle are must. 13-14 March 2018

Nina river - Boscawen - Rough Creek

Our Friday night departure and a stop at the Culverden hotel had us outside the Deerstalkers lodge by mid evening and we pitched our tents and slept to the sound of trailers rumbling along the highway. We rose early and started walking up the Nina valley. The walk through the forest was very pleasant and we had morning tea at Nina Hut and lunch at Upper Nina Biv. At this point we left the track and started making our own way up river to the upper reaches of the Nina valley. It was pretty easy going as we alternated between travelling up the river boulders and walking up the river terrace just inside the bush. We climbed out of the valley via the creek draining into the Nina due east of the saddle in the ridge just north of Mt Boscawen. The hut book in Upper Nina biv had given us some useful advice to walk 100 meters past the slip on the true right and climb the next creek on the same side. Although the creek looks like it may form a gorge higher up according to the map, it is in fact perfectly easy to negotiate. We pause briefly in the upper basin before grinding our way up through tussock to the saddle.

The persistent grey cloud was slowly beginning to melt away and the sun was shining through, creating a very beautiful scene as we looked down into the head of the Blue Grey river and across to Robinson saddle. Mt Boscawen is about 300 meters higher than us on the left but unfortunately we don't have time to climb it. It's taken us ten hours to reach this point and we still have a way to go to Lake Christabel hut. First we climbed slightly and then traversed the scree slope on the north-west side of Mt Boscawen. All three of us took turns falling on our backsides as we tried to cross the horrible, unstable, blocky scree but eventually we reached the opposite ridge and the easy ground down to Robinson saddle.

Upper Nina Biv

We picked up the poled route and travelled down through the scrub as the light slowly started to fade. We made it to the bush and the marked track before we needed to use our headlamps. The track is not difficult to follow but I think we were all beginning to tire and it became a slog to the hut. We arrived after a fifteen hour day to find the hut occupied by a family group of hunters and fishers. I was out like a light that night.

We headed off early next morning. Before leaving we formulated a plan with the other occupants of the hut and we took the family's car keys so we could move their car from Rough Creek carpark. The east tributary of the Blue Grey River bends around to the north and, as it turns, the track climbs over a series of bluffs. It was quite dispiriting after the previous day's efforts but after a while it settled down and the track became very pleasant as it sidled its way through the forest to the bush line.

Honora was by far the most nimble of our party and she carried on ahead to move the car while Frank and I were left to travel across the tops at a steady pace. It was a beautiful day walking in the sunshine while enjoying the mountain scenery. In due course we reached the top of Rough creek and were met with more views across the rest of Lewis pass.

We had a brief lunch at the bush line before re-entering the beech forest down the knee-shattering steep Rough creek track. Eventually we reached the road and could rest in the shade at the car park. A moment later Honora arrived. She had picked up the family from Palmer road and was now hitching a lift with them back to the Deerstalkers lodge where she could pick up our car. Very soon we were on our way back to Christchurch at a very reasonable hour. Another stop at Culverden Hotel rounded out the weekend.

This trip is probably best done as a moderate three day weekender. The terrain is not difficult and it visits some very nice country which doesn't seem to be visited as often as it should. It's well worth the effort.

Frank King, Honora Renwick, Andrew Tromans

Hamilton Hut

A weekend trip to Hamilton hut, with a really great group of people, Jo, Emma, Barry, Zack, Anthony, Jacqui. After having ups and downs trying to get enough cars and drivers, a good walk in and a big group at Hamilton hut, 14 in all for a Saturday night. Some really nice people too, including 2 English guys walking the TA as part of their lifelong friendship. Saturday night included trying to solve Jacqui's cryptic crossword, trying to decide why the leaders earring had reappeared on his body and a game of hearts which I lost by 1 point from Anthony.

The crew in a serious mood

Sunday dawning brightly and after a nice breakfast we took off for the trip back to the cars. After a stop for formal photos at the swing bridge we headed downstream, did many river crossings and got to the cars safely. Aftermatch at Hororata cafe included chips, coffee, fudge and a milkshake. Much hilarity and great weather made this a special weekend. Photos by Emma Rogers and Michael Hammond who also wrote this report.

More about the CTC

CTC Overdue Trips: Members/family/partners or a nominated person concerned about a trip being overdue should firstly discuss this with a Club Officer when they feel that the trip is delayed. Club Officers know where to obtain copies of the Trip Lists containing the names and addresses of the party members with their vehicle registration details etc. This will greatly assist Police Search and Rescue. The Club Officer can then contact the Police directly. Concerned people should keep trying different numbers until they actually contact a Club Officer (do not leave messages).

We recommend you start with Karen Tait, 027 545 7404, or Jonathan Carr, 022 034 4608. Then try the Club Captain, then the Gear Custodian, then the Presidents, then the Trip Organisers, then people listed under Our Club Hut – if no contact can be made then the Police. Refer to the list of Club Officers below, and on www.ctc.org.nz. Members (particularly Trip Leaders) please discuss this arrangement with your loved ones so they are aware of this procedure.
